I convince myself- as I lie awake
It's all in my head
And I fight to feel- but it hurts me to exist

Better find a better way

Spiritual insanity
Dust of angels came to me
I prayed that hope would find a way
Hide behind a hollow face
I fight to feel the empty space between
A BREATH AND A SCREAM

Etched in my mind- have I seen too much
But I cannot turn away
Is it out of reach- do I crash or do I burn
What do you want from me

Spiritual insanity
Dust of angels came to me
I prayed that hope would find a way
Hide behind a hollow face
I fight to feel the empty space between

Convince yourself that you're alive
Deep desires magnified
It's only hope that fades away
Maybe I'll convince myself
Underneath you're someone else
In the end I hope you'll fade away

Sad conviction that you're right
Til you see into your life
The shallow corner of a dream
Light the candle with the sun
Dark desire to become the space- between
