(Hank Cochran)

Your hand is like a torch each time you touch me
The look in your eyes pulls me apart
Don't open the door to heaven if I can't come in Don't touch me if you don't love me sweetheart.

Don't give me something that you might take away
To have you then lose you wouldn't be smart on my part
Don't open the door to heaven if I can't come in
Don't touch me if you don't love me sweetheart.

Don't give me something that you might take away
part
Don't open the door to heaven if I can't come in Don't touch me if you don't love me sweetheart..
