If I could find another pair of arms that could make me feel safe and warm
Then I might fall in love again I just might give my all again
If I could find someone to finish what you started
If I could find two soft lips so sweet to love away this feeling of defeat
Then love might be my friend again sunshine might be mine again
If I could find someone to finish what you started Losing you has stopped me what being lonely me It's like heaven someone wake you in the middle of a tree
If I could find a pair of eyes that shine
And smile the way yours did when you were mine
Then I might fall in love again I just might give my all
again
If I could find someone to finish what you started
If I could find someone to finish what you started
