This old world well
Don't it make you wanna think damn
This cold girl well
Don't she make you wanna scream damn

What's the matter girl
Don't you think I'm good enough
This old heart's had a whole lot a breakin' down
She's got all these reasons in her head

(Chorus 1)
All that time she knew if I lied
You can bet she will
She's takin' her time 'til I thought I would die
And I can't sit still

Things got turned 'round
Don't know where I started from, damn
Can't eat, can't sleep
Could have been a bigger man, damn
What's the matter girl don't you think I'm bright enough
This old man had a hard time getting here
You can leave your number at the door

(Chorus 1)
All that time she knew if I lied
You can bet she will
She's takin' her time 'til I thought I would die
And I can't sit still

(Chorus 2)
And there's nothing at all
Yeah there's nothing at all
Well there's nothing at all
To make her change her mind

oh make her change her mind
to make her change her

This old house been quiet since
You went away, damn

Mixed up, fixed out
Don't forget who got you here, damn

What's the matter world
Don't you see I opened up
This whole part been played by another man
I pulled out the reason card instead

(Chorus 1)

All that time she knew if I lied
You can bet she will
She's takin' her time 'til I thought I would die
And I can't sit still

(Chorus 2)

And there's nothing at all
Yeah there's nothing at all
Well there's nothing at all
To make her change her mind

Says she can find
The things that make up life
I bet she will
She stays behind, I could stay here all night
I could stay here until

Until there's nothing at all
Yeah there's nothing at all
Well there's nothing at all
To make her change her mind
Oh make her change her mind
To make her change her mind
