Someone said life is for the taking
Here I am with my hand out waiting for a ride
I've been living on my great expectations
What good is it when I'm stranded here
And the world just passess by
Where are the signs to help me get out of this place
If I should stumble on my moment in time,
How will I know
If the story's written on my face, does it show
Am I strong enough to walk on water
Smart enough to come in out of the rain
Or am I a fool going where the wind blows
Here I sit halfway to somewhere Thinking about what's in front of me and what I left behind
On my own, supposed to be so easy
Is this what I've been after
Or have I lost my mind
Maybe this is my chance coming to take me away
If I should stumble on my moment in time,
How will I know

If the story's written on my face, does it show

Am I strong enough to walk on water

Smart enough to come in out of the rain

Or am I a fool going where the wind blows

Here I am walking naked through the world

Taking up space, society's child

Make room for me, make room for me,

make room for me

Am I strong enough to walk on water

Smart enough to come in out of the rain

Or am I a fool

Going where the wind blows

Going where the wind blows

Going where the wind blows

Going where the wind blows
