Go home and take off all your make up
Don't say a word about the break up
And as you're biting off your toenails
Make sure to scream that you're the only one Who's ever fallen victim to a stand up prom dance
And slung 50 meters from a go-cart romance
You're not the only one

Look around
Wear your frown
It keeps you down, but baby, what do you know?

The only coolness is your new car
But does it make you wanna drive far Better watch it, lights are turning red, up ahead Slam on the breaks, and this is probably what will happen
Well your heart will stay protected cuz you put it in a safety belt
But your common sense went flying through the wind shield
You're not the only one
