Hang out my window
And over your head
Stare at your feelings
To see where they end
You're waiting here
For someone else to break you
From the inside
You've been so composed
But we all know there's Always something
Tearing you apart
It's always so much longer
Than you counted on
And it hits you so much harder
Than you thought
But you don't worry
You don't worry
Cuz you got soul
You're so heavy
You're so misunderstood
And I spent all my wishes
Wishing times were good
When I still could
Wait around here
For someone else to take me
Past the good side
You have been here so long
We all know there's Always something
Tearing you apart
It's always so much longer
Than you counted on
And it hits you so much harder
Than you thought
But you don't worry
You don't worry
Cuz darling, you've got so much soul
Darling you've got so much soul
There's always something
Tearing you apart
It's always so much longer

Than you counted on
And it hits you so much harder
Than you thought, than you ever thought it would
But you don't worry
You don't worry
Cuz you don't worry
You don't worry
Cuz you don't worry
You don't worry
Cuz you got soul
