Your message said you'd be okay
I hate it when you lie to me
But I am just too far away
To help much to calm your sea
The hanging judge is at your door
The serpent's underneath your bed
You summon all your angels out
They tell you it's in your head
And this may hurt for just a while
But it always comes out right

Go easy, go easy on yourself tonight
Go easy, go easy on yourself tonight

When all the secret codes you know
Can't seem to unlock the door
And all the road that led you home
Don't arrive there anymore
Don't scare yourself by thinking that
You've lose your only light

Go easy, go easy on yourself tonight
Go easy, go easy on yourself tonight

When all the pretty temples you built
Make you want to tear them down
You're crying over milk you spilled
Long before it hit the ground
Pull your mad genie back inside
And screw the lid on tight

Go easy, go easy on yourself tonight
Go easy, go easy on yourself tonight
