welcome to alcoville the hometown off all alcomuhfuckers sittin in the park chillin and watchin my best friend barf life feels harsh so we shoot some hard wait ten and start movin it all feels good it all feels true life with alcohol turns you blue walk on clouds feel all proud that you can shoot 14 tequilla without dying

we do hit bad

we do get sad

when our friends go mad lose their mind and go blind cuz they havent recognized their line so they push themselves pass the limit but fuckit who cares, you only live once so what we do is pass our life on to our sons and daughters welcome to drinkin land here I promse you

you'll become a man

learn to shake hands with a bum without feelin dumb we teach you how to drink a lot of beer how to get pissed off at a queer be short tempered and beat up someone for callin you Tempered What we do is start off our evening with some beer body healin hit off the feelin'

and grab the gin taste it, grin and begin to spin to get that amazing grace talk to jesus and insult his race those religious fucks who think we suck cuz we hit the bar drink and drive our car but we are really quite harmless unless u harm us the we go looking for you to smack you up till you want us to kill you
