I'm sick of whores on the internet babbling leaving spam but there tracks is all rambling about senseless nonsense their topics is a constant rip off stardom struck rappers and still they got balls to call themselves lyrical and on top of that genius? typical pityfull money come this, money come that but still they're stuck at home and they're paying with scraps
I'm not lying to you when I say I dont bring any money in from rapping but I see it as a hobby, a pin to express my thoughts and my feelings every fucking word I put on paper is a feeling I feel I need to portray no less of a symbolism in the weed tracks I create it's for the stoners to relate every single problem can be split in to verses if I got 'em and you got 'em then you'll understand why I disperse this

Chorus:

Maybe I'm mistaking myself here by saying the world has been taken over by self-righteous trained
men corrupted and evil, and money it seem to make it all worse or is it innate in man

Verse 2;

and then we got them dudes doin remixes of everything on MTV and VH1 but they never wrote anything even worth to be called a song incapable of writing more than 16 lines, never heard of a self thought rhyme everytime you put on a track with some famous dude you can see them with a scrapbook doing ignoramous loots biting every word, raping every thought-through track the DJ spins

they're burdons on the whole hip hop society erasing every hope for a mainstream variety but yo these are obstacles not too hard to overcome cuz I also know there are serious and skilled rappers all over the world waiting to spit some of that crazy shit, like DZK spinning that razor shit rap is all off from that racist shit black on white hate, white on black debates are through ok!

Chorus:

Verse 3;

and then we got critics who dont know shit about rap but still give opinion saying its shit and all that everytime some underground track breaks through the barrier then its resentful, an evil and hate carrier but what about them governments sendin hundreds of thousands of soldiers to the frontlines of some far away country which dont even post a threat except for the oil companies and the money of wealthy old fat monkeys it's pathetic to think that our whole society is run by business' economies and the "belief to be free" but still when a crime is committed by some leader of an organisation he can buy his fuckin freedom he's the juggernaut while some simple person will take the blow prison for life and the CEO can go home to sniff his blow which was imported and funded for by the same government who would send you or me to death fo' sho

Chorus:
