"Roads"

Waiting, waiting for something to get warmer
Cruel shadows kiss my cooling body
Smiles come rarely now
Can't contain this longing
Distant hopes glow dimly
Bitter - sweet temptation

Tears come rarely now, fever strikes like lighting
Thunder drowns my heartbeat, ice curls round my spine
Dark eyes getting darker
Can't contain this longing
Distant hopes glow dimly
Bitter - sweet temptation

Don't need faith without love
Don't need love without desire
Summer ends so very quickly
Don't need love without fire

Slipped through so many lives
So many hearts, so many roads
Don't know which way to go
Some were warm, but some were cold

Love tasted like opium
Surrender, sweet surrender
Dark nights burn so brightly
Time just fades away
Time just fades away
