Hey microphone testing, testing you playin' politician you martin she on the west wing guessing the best thing for me to do is spit it this shit is never a gimmick you listen more than a minute of it Iv been spitting flows since the kid was 6 years old and if u listen close I'll do this like some mismatches clothes its whatever put in together-you never could be this clever, im rockin the mic forever you gonna stop me never.
Im cocky because I love it, you rocky without the punches, hockey without the ice and boxes without the lunches flowing like me, noone and that got you mad bitch, so your boys are nothing but just air rich, I aint tellin nobody how they should live they life I got my own shit to deal with, so that just isint right Im just tryin to leave the crib go out and live the night shift, fuck that, im locked in the lab working dropping the track beats, get bodied and bags certain see the world through 1st 2nd and 3rd person, omniscient listening so efficient, trapped in my own goal line ready to go the distance, consider it a privilege that what you got to witness history in the makin' you fuckin bitches, just playin' with yall still in line waiting for my name to get called, yaa
