Yeah

Had to do this one

One time.

Hello Death, it seems that we meet again.

You keep takin friends that I'll never see again.

I guess they gotta leave but if we pretend that they never left,

well we gon' see em then

Never leave our heart, never leave our thoughts.

As time goes by, they'll never be forgot.

Life goes on, though i wish that they was there.

Shit like this never gonna seem fair, yeahh.

So can i have a moment of silence for anyone who's gone from the coldness of violence.

And I know you wanna see me go to college, but I'm sorry I don't think that Ima make it.

Because this world is mine for the takin, so when i get famous they gon' know what your name is.

And no one understand what the pain is, and how the blood run numb where my veins is.

I'd like to thank you, cuz you made me a man.

Told me to never let it go, so I'm takin a stand.

Always in the crowd when i played in the band.

Your grandson is everything I say that I am.

But maybe I am a little bit over my head,

but I'm feelin so alone tryin to cope with your death.

Holdin my breath, wishin i had one more day.

Wishin' you could be there when I graduate.

Uh, and it's sad to say, that no one in this room understand me.

I know you had to leave, so rest in pease.

But please, can you watch over nanny.

Cuz she loved you, and I love you.

All the prayers I'm sayin may bug you.

But I'm just checkin in on what you up to.

So, how they treatin you up there?

Too stubborn for a cane, way to cool.

Sleepin at your house, walkin me to school.

Thought I was a fool when my grades started slippin.

When I played ball you was always in admission.
You, loved me more than i've been loved before.
And thats the type of thing that everyone ignores.
But not me, you got me.
Always and forever.

Time goes by, goin without you.
Hope you know I've been thinkin about you.
And I know, I know, I know, I know that they took you
from your home.
But your in my heart, so I'm never gonna be alone.

Time goes by, goin without you.
Hope you know I've been thinkin about you.
And I know, I know, I know, I know that they took you
from your home.
But your in my heart, so I'm never gonna be alone.
