From so far away
You can see the light reflected
Everyone back in town
Have already been detected

Slip under the radar tonight
No one will know
Where you have gone
Under the radar tonight

Don't make no motions
Don't you betray no sign
Got to attune your devotions
Somehow above the power line

Now you know there is no escape
Therefore you know there is no
Time to waste

Away in the distance
Now we can see the city shine
Are you merely missing
Or did you really resign?

Slip under the radar tonight
No one could know
Where we have gone
Under the radar tonight
