Out with the old and in with the new,
I don't know what I'm going to do.
Will it fail, and be a waste of time?
I've got to try what's on my mind.

Too much time spent by myself,
Turn that into something else.
I don't know if I'll succeed,
But give it a go is what I need.

Who knows what'll happen next?
All I know is a change is best.
(x4)

I don't have a plan or a path,
Will it fail or will it last?
Ask the questions I don't know,
But it's time I've got to give it a go.

I've had enough of this dirty old town,
It's the same old smells, they get me down.
Everything I've done has been thrown away,
On my own, another blue monday.

Who knows what'll happen next?
All I know is a change is best. (x4)

I had a dream, but it got bad,
I woke up crying with thoughts in my head.
Go it alone with half-baked dreams,
All I know is it has to be me.
I found myself on the Isle of Wight,
but the coloured sands and black and try.

Who knows what'll happen next?
All I know is a change is best. (x4)
