verse 1:

as time grows to be my reaper I leave my mark behind and history will be my keeper but I am still alive

Chorus:

and where the ancient kings are buried new kings will rise and stand and so the torch is always carried passed from hand to hand

Verse 2:

in the night it is all we care for and we all play our part enslaved is our passion and therefore we hide it in the dark

Chorus:
