So what exactly are you saying?
You'd like to live your life between the sheets
There's no destination
The hours getting way past getting late
Defy the public opinion
You're talking big it comes too easily
I'm not prepared to entertain
You salivate when someone tells it straight

Young enough to always push your luck
I keep my fingers crossed you keep them up

Got a reason to get up this morning
Got inspired by the fear of being last
Don't deny your criminal past

Got a reason to get up this morning
Got inspired by the fear of being last
Don't deny your criminal past

Don't deny your criminal past

So what exactly are you, what exactly are you saying?
You'd like to live your life by talking cheap
It's no consolation
The hours getting way past getting late
And now it's time to for-forget all the people
There's too much regret
But now it's carved in stone
Just hang up the phone
You've been arrested now you've been inspected

Got a reason to get up this morning
Got inspired by the fear of being last

Don't deny your criminal past

Got a reason to get up this morning
Got inspired by the fear of being last
Don't deny your criminal past

Don't deny your criminal past

Oh yeh! Fuckin' do it!
Yeh! This is more like! [mumbling] Pick it up!
See you gotta have a funky beat to pick up!
Let's do this!
Got a reason to get up this morning
Got a reason to get up this morning
Got inspired by the fear you touch my ass
Don't deny your criminal past

Don't deny your criminal past
You've been in jail, you touch my ass
I'm lost
Got a reason to get up this morning
Got inspired by the fear you touch my ass
Don't deny you got a criminal past
Got a reason to get up this morning
Got inspired by the fear you touch my ass
Hey, don't deny your criminal past

Don't deny your criminal past
