If I wake up in a car
I will wonder what you are
By the sunday sea
If I wake up on tv
What am I supposed to be
Will you let me see,
Please

I've gone to heaven again
Left my suitcase in the lock
And we lay down
On the clock

If I wake up in japan
Will you try to understand
Nothing goes to plan
You've been living in the mountain
I've been living in a hole
There's seven kinds of seafood
But you ate my self-control

I've gone to heaven again
Left my briefcase in the lock
And we lay down
On the clock

I've gone to heaven again
Left my footstep in the sun
And my handshakes like a gun

I've gone to heaven again
Left my briefcase in the lock
And we lay down
On the clock
