i could let it be what she wants to shes never asking questions never puts up a fight i spent a couple years trying to follow her lurking in the shadows when she's nowhere inside oh, i could be wrong (i could be wrong)

but she knows where to hide (she knows to hide)
when she's leading me on (leading me on)
i just take it in stride
(in stride and stride)

now everybody says i should take it slowly i let her set the pace and i follow her lead building up a  , a situation she takes it all apart with a look i can't read and i could be wrong (i could be wrong)

but she knows where to hide (she knows to hide)
(leading me on)
i just take it in stride
(in stride and stride)

she keeps a lot of boys alone and waiting shes keeping me unmatched when i used to be bold she keeps it to the best i won't say crafted she keeps it to herself but i won't say go and i thought i had it figured out she escapes me

i wanted to discuss it but she turned off her phone and i tried to give it time and understanding but i can't comprehend is why she still ***

i could be wrong
(i could be wrong)
(she knows to hide)
(leading me on)
(in stride and stride)

she makes me want to shout it out shout it out shout it out at the top of my lungs
