Do me wrong songs make money all the time, the time
But your fine chocolate ass brings nothin' negative to mind, to mind
And the sun shines laughter when we live as one
And there's peace for those who believe in love

I'm so glad we've come together again
Been thinkin' 'bout you, where you been?
I've been waitin' here on needles and pins
And I'm so glad we've come together again
And I'm so glad we've come together

Bad news makes the front page all the time, the time
But the positive's in small print on page 99, 99
The sun shines laughter when we live as one
And there's peace for those who believe in love

I'm so glad we've come together again
Since the way and everything I have been
Laying low but it's good to see my friends
And I'm so glad we've come together again
Glad we've come together again

Oh why all the love confusion
When there's such a simple solution?
In as much as we keep it to ourselves
We all need each other so let's be together

I'm so glad we've come together again
Since the way and everything I have been
Laying low but it's good to see my friends
I'm so glad we've come together again
So glad we've come together again

Been thinkin' 'bout you, where you been?
I've been waitin' here on needles and pins
And I'm so glad we've come together again
So glad we've come together again
So glad we've come together again
So glad we've come together again

We've come together again

Together again
We've come together again
Say, alright
