"Gods Of Noise"

come on, hey listen, this is the song for you forget your daily shit, may all your dreams come true fast guitars, dangerous girls, we'll have a party tonight all that we want while playing here is to get you really tight maxi wattage, light speed changes, give us what we need come closer to the stage, our friends, we give you what you need explosions! announcing our arrival! we came down to pray for you, we are the gods of
noise
noise
listen to the words, our song is loud and clear go out and spread this message, everyone has to hear we stand for our music, that's spreading like a flame in any situation we'll always take your blame and when your good friends leave you, no another to be found the gods of noise appear and lift you off the ground [chorus]
even when the show is over, remember us, we will return!
