i come around but i dont see ya its kinda hard when your already gone my eyes are numb bloodshot and heavy the voices silent but approaching me soon hes got your name hes got your number just one more slip and he'll be dragging you on i feel the pain
oh i see the answer the voices ring out like the siren of song

[Chorus:]

youre gone when you stop believing when its hard to sleep at the end of the day move on, dont try to get even looking hard just to find a new end cause its hard to die when your already dead

just when cant quite remember just when i cant quite recall the day we met upon a cold december the day we met and it started to fall

[Chorus]
