In a world where logic and proportion dies
The dark side's laughing as it lights it's sight
With it's evil eyes
It comes around when you are least expecting it to strike
It grabs you by the neck
And takes your soul with all it's might

The voices haunting me
The fear is here come around and see
No slumber anymore
Demons in disguise
Knocking at my door

A small piece of advice...
Ignore!

My head is hurting
My eyes are growing cold
The strength increases
When it fired a shot into it's hold
The burning version of a man whose lost his will to live
The fight is over
When there is nothing left to have or give

The voices haunting me
The fear is here come around and see
No slumber anymore
Demons in disguise
Knocking at my door
