Look in your eyes, wanna be inside
Feel like a dog that's been left out in the rain
Where it's cold, gotta find my way back,
I feel you burning and I want to go home
Where it's warm inside.

I need your touch, you're like a siren
Temptation pulls me closer I can't resist
So let me in now, cause I've been waiting
Any longer and I'm gonna explode

[chorus]
So tell me that you want it,
So many things I need to know
You can't hide your secrets

Nothing's sacred when we're here all alone
Tell me that you like it slow

You've let me in now
And it's where I want to stay
You're wrapped around me and I'll never escape
From these games we play
Won't you stay
Our lives will change and both get dizzy
