the night was dark
the seas were rough the port lay straight ahead the booze ran out the men grew tired and this is what they said:
"captain if you cannot find a place to set her down then you'll be sleeping right along this vessel in the ground"

well the jolly roger pulled through and made it to the land we disembarked went into town with vengeance in our hand the children cried the women sighed the men would turn their heads so with a smile we chated loud and this is what we said

"ooohhooh
raise'em in the air
we'll knock you up
and slap you down
and never seem to care
ooohooohh
another one for me
cause we're the filthy vermin that will set you people free" with nothing left for us to drink the night was winding down but still the girls kept swaggering and still hanging around oh! mister can you tell me where i can find a man the only thing that you'll find's the back side of my hand!

another one for me
we're the filthy vermin
