"Elephant's Run"

I was sleeping in the jungle
And my dreams were really sweet
But they were broken by distant thunder
Try to go on but never succeed.
Sky with no cloud
But the sound was getting loud
Then I realized
And it made me paralysed.
Elephants' run no place to hide
Elephants' run good rocking tonight
Elephants' run it's really swell
Elephants' run runs like hell.
All that was leading a quiet life
Found itself in ruin and wreck
Jungle was shaken with elephants' drive
Elephants' move is a kind of earthquake
Crazy-crazy noise.
Crash and destroy
Running through your mind
No more sleep at night.
People are sleeping in big city jungle
People are sleeping in country side
But some teenage freaks gotta rockin' disease
Elephants' fever that they can't hide.
Bands with crazy sound
Are rockin' all around
Running through your mind
No more sleep at night.
