She said I love you and there's something to do
To keep our love forever true
'cause time is cruel and in the years ahead
It's gonna wear off it's gonna get dead
She said I'm happy as I ever could be
I want to stop the time for you and me
I want to save the highest point of our love
Let's take a step off the highest building in town
They flew away
On the wings of love
They flew away
While useless flesh
Was falling to the ground
Tomorrow's papers will be wondering why
Police report will fix a suicide
Some friends and relatives are going to cry
They were so young why did they choose to die
And they are watching from above holding hands
Surprised that no one really understands
They simply stopped the time and saved their love
They took a step off the highest building in town
