In the morning after shave
You tell yourself that you are brave
Through the day you feel the same
But as the night comes down again
You see the shadows in your bedroom
You hear the rustles in your bedroom
You gonna shiver all night long
Gonna quiver till the morning light
You cannot sleep at night
Frightened by the darkness
Someone's prowling in the street
Someone's scratching at your door
Someone's whispering in your kitchen
You got scared just more and more
