If you hear that engine in the night
You should run away and try to hide
Starbiker's on the road
Starbiker's on the road
He'll smash your flesh
And get your soul
His legs are rubber, his body's steel
His wheels are always got to reel
He came to Earth from outer space
His brain possessed with cosmic craze
Somewhere in depth of Universe
For something we don't know
Starbiker's badly cursed
That's why he never ever stops
And he's so tired
He's glad to die
But he's got to ride!
