I know how they disappoint you
I know how they make you feel
I smell the scent of your anguish
That you would like to conceal
I feel the distance between us
But I feel the pull of your lure
I smell your blood on their fingers
I see your blood on the floor
I'll pick you up just to knock you down
And then lift you up again
I'll take the lead and we'll go around
And this dance will never end
I've watched you harness your anger
I've watched you beg, borrow and plead
You need someone to control you
And take the reigns of your Steed
I'll guide your hand through the haze
And glide you along through the hall
From behind, I'll walk you through it all
And then watch you writhe on the floor
I'll pick you up just to knock you down
And then lift you up again
I'll take the lead and we'll go around
And then go around again
Go around, Go around
Go around
Let's go around again
I'll pick you up just to knock you down
And then lift you up again
I'll take the lead and we'll go around
And then go around again
Go around, Go around
Go around, Go around
Let's go around, Let's go around
Let's go around
Let's go around again
Let's go around, Let's go around
