"Ways To Sell You Out"

They keep on think' about
They keep on think' about
They keep on think' about ways to buy you

They got the dollar signs in their eyes
They got their designer fashion disguise
They keep on think' about
They keep on think' about
They keep on think' about ways to sell you out
About ways to sell you out

They got their hotsie tootsie hoochie mammas
They got their supa-posse entourage
They keep on think' about
They keep on think' about
They keep on think' about ways to sell you out
About ways to sell you out
About ways to sell you

So many people
Keep trying to sell you out
So many people
Keep trying to sell me out
So many people
Keep selling themselves out
So many people
Trying to sell us out

They wear sunglasses to hide what's
Behind their eyes
They are the signs of the times
Nineteen-hundred ninety-nine
They keep on think' about
They keep on think' about
They keep on think' about ways to sell you out

It's a matter of economics
Supply and demand go hand in hand
Like the Future and Chronic
Let's step back and analyze this topic with logic

The way I see it, we got many things to change
Therefore we must rearrange the concepts
Of human perception in this modern age
And turn the page that will lead us
To the next chapter
Faster and faster we will progress
So we can make the grade on the test
And succeed in this quest of ways to sell you out
