It all pulls away like splitting mercury
I find that you're truly crazy
You want to get blood from me
But at a distance I can resist you

You can't have me
So you detach
You can't hate me
So you detach

And now you're throwing me away

Read me wrong and you get nervous
So you speak in circles all day
But you're words are only lies spiked with truth
You put up you're defenses instead of being honest

You can't have me
So you detach

You can't hate me
So you detach

And now you're throwing me away

Now we go over and over
The same old thing
And I don't touch cuz it will never mean enough
To shut-up and listen

You can't have me
So you detach
You can't hate me
So you detach

And now you're throwing me away
