"Step To You"

Here I'll put it to you before we fight
I need to step to you to prove I'm right I never leaked a drop of loyalty i never lost my hate and purity you say you're down and out and I'm to blame but all there ever was was shame in your game never will we battle or bleed for you again never will we swallow our pride for your revenge i guess you never had it in your heart you never had our back you were destined to part you played yourself out flashing true colours proving that bit of doubt to your brothers sukers like you run in and out of jams and pretty soon your luck will end
