There's no discretion, just pain
No sympathy at war
If you're my foe, you're not human any more
Don't proclaim your innocence
We're all innocent and guilty as well, yeah
We fight for blood money to reign supreme
You fight for God almighty to control human beings
What makes you better than me?
What makes me better than you?
Behold, let the guns speak

No peace without justice
I'll battle, i'll fight for who and why do I die?
We speak of justice
But who will bring it, who will lay the law down?

Is their aggression so vain that we've lost hope in others?
We protect our families, sisters and brothers
But who do they protect?
Yes, our governments and the terrorists
Who will destroy?
Who will destroy us?

No peace without justice
I'll battle, i'll fight for who and why do I die?
We speak of justice
But who will bring it, who will lay the law down now?
