I remember our first kiss
The butterflies, I know you felt them too
I can still taste your lips
That night I wrapped up all my love in you
But deep inside I always knew
The sadness around you was deadly
I must hate myself
'Cause I also knew one day you'll destroy me

But there's something I've got to know
(Before we say goodbye)
Will I ever see you again?
(Somewhere in another life)

I remember our first fight
Your skeletons were all up over you
I can still taste that night
When you told me you'd been beat up and abused
You'd hide it all
Bruised mouths don't talk
It's not your fault
It was never your fault
It's an evil world for an innocent girl
It's not your fault
It was never your fault

But there's something I've got to know
(Before we say goodbye)
Will I ever see you again?

(Somewhere in another life)
I'm going to try to be okay
(But I need you to know)
Wherever you are now
(That here you were adored)

You were always great at running away
But you said forever
You promised forever
I forgive you
I've forgiven you
And now I just miss you

I'll always remember you

Go!

Oh, sleep in peace

But there's something I've got to know
(Before we say goodbye)
Will I ever see you again?
(Somewhere in another life)
I'm going to try to be okay
(But I need you to know)
Wherever you are now
(That here you were adored)
