I would like to say a word but you came in for good today.

I would like to feel your world but I just came to rest my case.

Feels like doing time and no one's on my side.
And you just refound this dirty bag of mine.

I should easily forget all my sins and go away.
But instead I carry all this sick burden till may.

Feels like doing time and no one's on my side.
And you just refound this dirty bag of mine.
Yes you remember how to call my name.

Did you found it?
My dirty bag.

Feels like doing time and no one's on my side.
And you just refound this dirty bag of mine.

Yes you remember how to call my name.
So you remember how to hide in shade.
And now you drift away...
