Honey bee
Come buzzing me
I ain't seen you for so long...

I need to feel you
I mean to reel you
Like the one described to me in song...

Out in the woods
Tall pine tree woods
She gave sweet loving to me...

Her woodland grace
Her soft embrace
My face in shadow
Honey bee...

Won't you come see me in the morning?
Won't you come see me late at night?
For it ain't right, no it just ain't right
You're meant to turn away from the light...

Night, all my lights are on
I need a little one on one
This useless, helpless feeling..

A young man should be blessed with love
There's just flesh and fire below
This drunken, senseless reeling...
Hands on my face
Some silk and lace
Sweet perfume kisses
For me...

Wherever you burn
I have returned

You lucky lady
Honey bee

I have to leave you in the morning
You always wanted to be free..

Stay with me
Sweet lucky lady
Don't ever leave me
Honey bee...

Awake in cold places
Cool eyes and icy faces
Some dead and some living
Most of them doing something in between...

My lady in waiting
Must have turned to hating me
Some bitter awakening this has been
The next time she calls I'm gonna let her in...
The next time she calls I'm gonna let her in...

And if she leaves me in the morning
At least we both have been relieved...

Now... stay with me...
Stay with me...
Sweet lucky lady
Don't you ever leave me
Honey bee...
