Pack up the truck and that old road
Headin' straight up 395
There ain't nothing much like freedom and wind
To make a tired man feel quite alive

Oh and heaven's having your girl by your side
Oh and heaven's as close as taking a ride

Well Bishop has passed and I roll down the glass
To breath elevation and pines
The air way up here takes my soul off somewhere
To a higher ground off by and by

Oh and heaven's having your girl by your side
Oh and heaven's as close as taking a ride
Oh how the days change here fierce with the wind
From a sunny sky filled with blue
To a white blanket covering the mountains again
In a June Lake Village for two
Oh another cold night comin' in
Oh another snowy night closing in

First things first build a fire of course
And settle down to warm up the bones
In for the night and damn it feels right
To sit down and sip something strong

Oh and heaven's having your girl by your side
Oh and heaven's as close as taking a ride
Oh how the days change here fierce with the wind
From a sunny sky filled with blue
To a white blanket covering the mountains again
In a June Lake Village for two
Oh another snowy night closing in
