just watch me snake my way along threw the car alarms to a hole in the cameras lens you might be locked up in a golden tower they can throw me out, I'll catapult my way back in when all the experts fail and the bloodhounds loose their trail I'll be at your door in my best with my hand over my heart oh, no love won't keep us apart theres no time for explanations now theres just one detail, it's gonna be hard to explain every time you leave the room the music stops your a cinematic ghost but you can scare me away don't need no ransom note just name your price your free to go i tried to leave once or twice myself but never got very far
