I was lonely, I was sad
I was feeling awfully bad
My heart was broken

But you came into my life
And you made my future bright
Your eyes had spoken

And they took the hurt away from me
The rain that fell within my heart is swept away
The clouds break open and I see the day

Here by your side
No more reason to hide my feelings inside
And I'll gladly share each one of them with you if you let me
Light all around me
I feel, it surround me
Shining down from above this is love
