Hey,
The world is ending, Don't you even know?
Well how did evolution get so slow?
The grass don't even grow.
Say,
You buy and sell and throw it all away.
And hope it never gets to you too late.
This planet is gonna blow.
Everything is better,
And everything is right.
And everything comes together.
And everything's done tonight.
If you cover me.
But the music's much too loud,
To hear this alarm sound.
Too loud, will you cover me?
But the emptiness I've found,
Can't keep me on the ground.
The ground, can you cover me?
Hey,
What's the point in trying to get away?
The neverending search to find escape.
It's gonna leave you cold.
Everything is better,
And everything is right.
And everything comes together.
And everything's done tonight.

If you cover me.
But the music's much too loud,
To hear this alarm sound.
Too loud, will you cover me?
But the emptiness I've found,
Can't keep me on the ground.
The ground, can you cover me?
This is the last breath I, I think I'll ever take.
this is the last move I , I think I'll ever make.
Will there be a chance now to figure this out?
And be free tonight.
But the music's much too loud,
To hear this alarm sound.
Too loud, will you cover me?

But the emptiness I've found,
Can't keep me on the ground.
The ground, can you cover me
The music's much too loud,
To hear this alarm sound.
Too loud, will you cover me?
