I still write to apologize,
And ask to look at life, it has passed us by.
I know you sacrificed time, life, and love.
Now it's time to fly.

Please consider nothing trite.
Forgiveness will be the thing that will get us by,
I know to have something like this
Broken, it's hard to fix.

Embers, we're burning bridges down,
Whoa envelopes stuffed with feelings found,
To write this down is means to reconcile.
[To write this down is means to reconcile.]

To write this down is means to reconcile.

We write to patch things up,
Agree to disagree, then to proclaim love.
Let's look ahead and then
We'll see the path, and for us this is where it ends.

So based on that we'll see,
The change is coming, coming constantly.
I know to have something like this,
Broken, it's so hard to fix.

Embers, we're burning bridges down,
Oh envelopes stuffed with feelings found,
To write this down is means to reconcile.
[To write this down is means to reconcile.]

Embers, we're burning bridges down,
Oh envelopes stuffed with feelings found,
To write this down is means to reconcile.
[To write this down is means to reconcile.]

Instrumental

Embers, we're burning bridges down,
Whoa envelopes stuffed with feelings found,

To write this down is means to reconcile.
[To write this down...]

If all is said and done and over,
If we don't have to, then we're not gonna
Make the change, 'cause it's worth a try,
What's broken can be fixed tonight.

Embers, we're burning bridges down,
Oh envelopes stuffed with feelings found,
To write this down is means to reconcile.

To write this down is means to reconcile.
