am i alone in this? never a night where i can sleep myself till day. we must try to figure it out, figure it out. it wont be that easy, we lost it somehow.

you've come over unannounced. silence broken by your voice in the dark. i need you here tonight just like the ocean needs the waves.

oh, the night becomes the space that's somewhere in between(what i feel and what i'm told) sitting on the shoreline trying to figure it out. figure it out... to find out the meaning and reach it somehow.

you come over unannounced. silence broken by your voice in the dark. i need you here tonight just like the ocean needs the waves. fall around me now like the stars that shine and brighten the way. i need you here tonight just like this night it needs the rain.

the seasons has changed. the wind blows colder now, colder now. the clouds are raised. the rain it falls harder now, all around.

you come over unannounced(will you come over now?). silence broken by your voice in the dark. i need you here tonight just like the ocean needs the waves(i need you here tonight just like the waves). fall around me now (so fall around me now) like the stars that shine and brighten the way. i need you here tonight just like the night it needs the rain(i need you here tonight just like the rain). you come over unannounced(will you come over now?). silence broken by your voice in the dark. i need you here tonight just like the ocean needs the waves (i need you here tonight just like the waves).

... just like the stars that fall around me now.
