Oh I must say, my hearts on fire
Since I've been away,
Since I last saw your face.

Oh Come what may, it'll all get right
And lonely old nights will be a thing in the past.

All I wish is you to sleep
As sound as your eyes and as sweet.
I wish you to know I believe
That your company leaves me right as rain.

Oh I must say, my hearts on fire
But I don't mind the pain,
You're far worth the pain.

For now, I wish you to sleep
As sound as your eyes and as sweet.
I wish you to know I believe
That your company leaves me right as rain.
Leaves me right as rain.

After all, I wish you would sleep
As sound as your eyes and as sweet.
I wish you to know I believe
That your company leaves me right as rain.
Leaves me right as rain.
Leaves me right as rain.
