deep beneath your failures, a sound like buzzing flys sparx behind the cataracts, upon your haunted eyes so much for the good ol' days, so much for the dream so much for your rumor to wisper to a scream if i am anything, i'd say i was your friend its harder than i thought watching as you fall (fall) from grace all things you can (can) retrace watching as you fall

i remember the days you turned to black when every new disaster sent you spinning from the track more empty promises your never comming clean and every vacant stare tells me you dont know what i mean

no ones listening, no one just like you like evry breath thats wasted look what its done to you i will come around or have a drink or two i talk about the lifes you've shattered watching as you fall (fall) from grace

memories that fade (fade) away watching as you fall
as you fall

you know X5
you know how much i love you
you know X5
you know how much i love you watchig as you fall (you know) from grace you know you know how much i love you fall from grace (you know)

while memories fade away (you know) you know you know how much i love you watching as you fall (you know) from grace you know you know i absolette you GO!!
