"The Police Have Been Wonderful"

Most of us who have watched the scenes on television have only the highest praise for the police. They indeed have kept the right of miners to go to work open, and they've done it marvelously. The police have been wonderful. The police have been wonderful. The police have been wonderful. The police have been wonderful. Our institutions of justice, the courts, and the police, require the unswerving support of every law-abiding citizen. I think it totally and utterly false... totally and utterly false... to cast a slur on the police and the superb way in which they have handled this dispute. The police have been wonderful. The police have been wonderful. The police have been wonderful. The police have been wonderful. If there are individual complaints about policemen, there's a well-established machinery to pursue them, and that is why British justice is renowned across the world. It seems that there are some who are out to destroy any properly elected government--they are out to bring down the framework of law. That is what we have seen in this strike.
