Well, you say you understand
That it's just a phase
I'm going to a place
Where you can come

You're just gonna let it flow
Put yourself on hold
And let your blood run cold
Until mind cools off

And then I'll be in your arms
Where past times disappear

But you play that part with the heaviest heart
Yeah, you play that part with the heaviest heart

Could say the meanest things
But your tongue doesn't speak
Not because I'm cute
'Cause you find me too weak

To you I'm an open book
You've already read
And then I climb off the top of the world
To get on top of a girl

And then [unverified] back in your arms
Where past times disappear

But you play that part with the heaviest heart
Yeah, you play that part with the heaviest heart
But you play that part with the heaviest heart
Yeah, you play that part with the heaviest heart

Play that part, play that part
Yeah, you play that part with the heaviest heart
