"Little Miss More Or Less"

Hanging around waiting for him to show you
How he's going to give himself completely away to you
This time around
He says you will excel in a better day

But you will give a little more
And live a little less
You will give a little more
Just to find you'll live a little less than before

Please hear me out I am on your side here
Just like I've always been
But to put things right, I need more time
'Cos I cannot think straight put it down to too much drink

But you will give a little more and live a little less
You will give a little more
Just to find you'll live a little less than before
"I know it's sad and I'm sorry but I offer my apologies for being me"
