"One Step Away"

See you like the water's edge
The taste of fear is in my heart and in my head
I've never seen a power so strong
The silver moon just like a medal being hung
Feel your touch your brand of fire
And your magic weave is more than I require
I've never seen this place before
I live in this world yes I know where I belong
Time has no respect for man'sd vanity
We hold the keys we are the caretakers of insanity
We've been down this road before
Learnt the lesson on the surface it's been scored
One step away
Away from you
One step away
Away from you
Your many faces I can't trust
I walk alone I'll take my chance I won't be pushed
You promise all the things i need
I'd have to change my ways and all I believe
Feel your touch your brand of fire
And your magic weave is more than I require
I've never seen this place before
I live in this world yes I know where I belong
