In midnight skies burn on many stories untold
On icy nights winds blow that touch everyone
You still think you are so far away
But you pay the dearest price of us all

'Cause you stand on the edge of the world
And you're dreaming all your precious time away
You know you're dreaming all your precious time away

Morning comes so soon to brighten your eyes
And talking to yourself you don't even try
And there alone where no-one bothers you
You can stay a thousand miles from us all

'Cause you stand on the edge of the world
And you're dreaming all your precious time away
Dreaming all your precious time away

And in this world you sleep ignoring
Another night has passed
This endless sleep might be rewarding
Don't let it be your last

In midnight skies burn on many stories untold
On icy nights winds blow that touch everyone
You still think you are so far away
But you pay the dearest price of us all

'Cause you stand on the edge of the world
And you're dreaming all your precious time away
Dreamin' all your precious time away

You know you're dreaming all your precious time away
You know you're dreaming all your precious time away
Ooh, dreamin' all your precious time away
